those on the outside of the rail and those on the inside closed in until saddle girths appeared to be touching. Up the hill they came, with white-faced boy's bending over their necks, ready with whip and spur for the final struggle finish. Fully a dozen as they mounted the hill were bobbing up and down in perfect rhythm and within reaching distance of each other. The hearts of the 50,000 onlookers were throbbing now with the intensity of the excitement. For a moment, as the racers straightened out, there was crowding in the center of that flying cavalcade. To go down meant death; a single misstep meant a frightful catastrophe. THE LAST FURLONG.

There was hardly a sound in the stands, but a mighty shout went up when Dazzling, carrying the spotted white of the Keenes, came first into the straight and the others spread out for the dash down to the wire. McCue touched Lord of the Vale with the whip and the gallant son of Hastings sprang out to the front. Perhaps he made his run too soon, for he began to falter when hard challenged a moment later, but recovered. The goal was well within sight and McCue began to ride like a fiend. The Whitney and Keene candidates were pushing him hard. Through that cloud of dust every one's eyes made out his own favorite. There were cries of "Irish Lad!" and "Golden Maxim!" and "Flying Prince!" and events will be well filled with entries. In-"Mizzen!" and half a dozen others. MANY NOMINATIONS FOR KENTUCKY STOCK FARM PURSE.

Event Will Be One of the Features of State Fair Races-Purse Divided Into Two Divisions.

The trotting and pacing races to be given during the jubilee state fair will remind the lovers of harness races in this city and State of the time when Indianapolis was a member of the Grand Circuit and immense purses were offered for the various events. The state fair management has offered larger purses for the races this year than have been hung up in Indianapolis for many years, and as a result all the terest largely centers in the Kentucky Stock Farm purse, divided $5,900 for trotters

There are twenty-two nominations in the trotting division this year and seven nomilieved that nearly all of those entered will sion. Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, has Chesko, a chestnut colt by Moko, one of the Red Wilkes family. Another Red Wilkes colt in the race will be Grace Eldred, a bay filly by Cecilian, owned by Charles W. Marvin, of Lextington. George W. Leavitt, of Boston, has entered Todd, a brown colt by Bingen, and J. Malcomb Forbes, of Boston, will also have a Bingen colt in the race, Tonga, a bay filly. Bowerman Bros. have nominated Angel, a chestnut filly by Axtel. Senator Bailey has entered Peace Commis-

The trotting division will be sent on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 18, and the pacing division on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

MAJ. JAMES BELL.

Protest Against the Winner of the Wimbledon Cup.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 30.—The power that controls the weather is uniformly good to the management of the Seagirt rifle range, This the second day of the joint meeting of the three leading associations of marksmen was well nigh perfect. The scores throughout were exceptionally close. The first half of the day was devoted mostly to the match open to inspectors and ex-inspectors of rifle practice. Eighteen riflemen reported at the firing line. Each man fired ten shots at 500 yards and ten shots the kind of rifle used.

Maj. James E. Bell, inspector general of rifle practice, District of Columbia National Guard, who finished in the lead, scored 96 out of a possible 100. His ten shots at 500 Major Reichelderfer, also of the National Guard, with a total of 95, was only one point in the rear of the winner. Maj. G. B. Young, another Washingtonian, landed in third place, his score being 93. Private W. E. Colladay, a District of Columbia man, and Captain Martin, of New Jersey, each scored 92 and each tallied 43 at 600 yards, the longest range. Colladay's last shot was higher than Martin's, however, so the former gained the advantage.

The afternoon was given over to the competition for the Wimbledon cup and to shooting in the interstate schuetzen team match. In the Wimbledon match, which was closely watched by nearly everybody on the range, there were fully half a hundred entries. The contest was open to all citizens and residents of the United States. Each competitor was required to fire thirty shots at 1,000 yards. Special rifles could be used and cleaning between shots was in order, any position assumed by the rifleman was permissible. The handicap for military rifles using government ammunition was eighteen points and for special military rifles, any ammunition, six points. The Wimbledon cup was presented by the National Rifle Association of Great Britain to the National Rifle Association of America. It is competed for annually. The winner is awarded a medal, which becomes his permanent property. Several of the competitors used service rifles that had been fitted with barrels by private makers; such rifles were allowed in order to give an opportunity for a test as to the present rifling of the United States caliber .30 rifle compared with the best obtainable. The highest score in the Wimbledon match was attained by Corporal K. K. V Casey, Company B, Seventy-first Regiment

New York National Guard. It is announced however, that his total will be protested He actually scored 128, but a handicap al lowance of eighteen points run it up to 146. Private H. M. The annexation of Irvington brought property into the city which was assessed last year at $1,218,680. Of the personal property the railway companies will pay on $6,017,601; telephone, telegraph, express and sleeping car companies on $1,176,-975, and the street-railway interests on $3,-598,510. The Indianapolis Street-railway Company will pay the bulk of the lastnamed assessment, as interurban companies are only taxed on their rolling stock. The assessment on the pipe-line companies was lowered and they will pay on $958,575.

CITY NEWS NOTES

Dr. P. C. Read has returned from a three weeks' outing on the lakes. Dr. T. C. Rutledge has returned from a two weeks' trip to the great lakes. A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by John L.
